

Your Pricing Request

Thank you!

The Requirements for our group event have been submitted to the hotel or hotels of your choice. The hotels will respond to you within 1 business day. You will receive an email of this inquiry. A second email will be sent with a web address and login where you can check on your hotel responses.

What happens next?

After you have arranged for booking your group reservations with one of the selected hotels, you can invite travelers to pay for their own rooms with a Personalized Group Web Page. You'll be able to create a private, customized web page with photos, text and information about your group. Then, you'll receive a link within 3 business days to send to your travelers, allowing them to book their own rooms online.

Or, if you prefer, you can quickly reserve rooms on behalf of your travelers, with the flexibility of using one credit card for all rooms, or to use a different credit card for each reservation with Guest List Manager. You'll also gain easy access to your group's reservation details. Get more information or assistance from your hotel representative after they respond to your Pricing Request.

Additional Comments

We would like individual participants to book their room(s) via Hilton directly, using the block of rooms reserved for our event. We want the SUITE for use as a "hospitality room" to welcome participants from Friday through check-out on Sunday (no beds).
