~ Getting Around ~

If you're staying at our host hotel, The Double Tree in Jersey City, NJ, please take note that there was a serious accident on the PATH trains a few weeks ago and it is causing service disruptions. At this time, the Newport Station PATH train is only going to World Trade Centre Station.

You can take this train (if it's running) check with the hotel front desk.

- Take the PATH train at Newport Station to WTC Station
- Walk to the (E) train at Barclay/Church Streets – all trains departing here are going north!
- Go 3 stops on the (E) train to the West 4th Street Station and exit.
- Walk north up 6th Ave
- Turn left on Waverly Place,
- then left on Christopher St
- The Historic Stonewall Inn will be on the right side of the street.

Nearly everyone has a “smart phone” nowadays, and we're happy to report that Google Maps offers directions that are very integrated with the MTA/NJT (subway and bus systems), so if you use Google Maps, you can trust them! Plan on it taking 45-60 minutes to get there, considering the mess.

Lost? Confused? Please call Chaz at +1 646 827-6222 or Joe at +1 732 794-3218.
